THE CORONER'S OFFICE.

CORONER CROKER'S EXAMINATION—CONTINUED—INQUIRIES INTO THE MCENNA HOMICIDE CASE.

The examination in regard to the Coroners' office was continued yesterday by the Senate Committee, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Coroner Croker and John T. Teal, the clerk of the Coroners' office, were the only witnesses called. The former testified that, in many instances, inquests were adjourned to the Morgue in order to get additional evidence, or on account of pressure of business. A second jury was sometimes impaneled because of the non-appearance of the first. The Coroner said that he always desired to have a jury, and the $5 which he received when a jury was summoned did not influence his action. The witness could not explain the difference between a subscribing witness and an ordinary witness. In many cases his own opinion differed from the verdict rendered by the jury. Never to his knowledge did the same man act as both juror and witness on the same case. It was not the general practice for the hospital physician to make post-mortem examinations of those who died there. The usual time taken in making a post-mortem examination was half an hour, but it might be longer if the body was emaciated. The records in one case failed to show at what time the witness was sworn or examined.

Mr. Davernport then interrogated the Coroner with reference to his treatment and conduct after his arrival for Liverpool, arrived here this morning, the farmer at 7 o'clock, and the coroner at 10 o'clock. The coroner late steamship came to New York at 10 o'clock. DISASTERS.

London, Oct. 15.—Admirable services have been done that the British fleet has rendered to New Zealand. The port of Portland, Oregon, has been totally destroyed by fire last night. The crew were saved, and have arrived at Padang. The town of Auckland has been badly damaged by fire at Nazare, Spain.
